Classroom News

Hello Kindergarten Families,

The class was excited to learn about the upcoming Move-a-thon today! Our class color is YELLOW- which means our class should wear a yellow shirt with comfy bottoms and tennis shoes on the day of the Move-a-thon, March 2nd.

Enjoy your weekend,

Mrs. Zoltoski

Friendly Reminders

 Please return the following to school on Monday:

- Teaching Touching Safety Program permission slip
- Move-a-thon permission slip

 Please send next week:

- Safety Bag (emergency supplies)

Academic Highlights:

Reading/Language Arts

The Kindergarten students are growing as readers! Our stories are getting longer and include words to sound out with short vowels and our sight words. The two consonant sounds we focused on this week were /f/ and /r/ and our new sight words were with and he.

Math

We worked on writing simple addition sentences this week using the plus and equal signs. The students enjoyed writing "big kid" math sentences! We completed the unit today with a quiz. Next, we will begin basic subtraction.

Science

We continued our study of penguins and the students are very excited to share the facts that they've learned! We will work a bit more on this next week and their research folders will come home for you to check out!

Religion

We have spent time this week talking about showing love to others through our actions and words.
